Cortina d’Ampezzo, the 1956 venue for the Winter Olympics, is now preparing for the 2021 World Ski Championships. The landscape of the Dolomites, a UNESCO World Heritage site, will be the setting for this unique event, where past and future meet on the snowy pistes. Italian and Ladin traditions intertwine to provide a truly authentic experience: the delicious food, elegant style and welcoming spirit all make Cortina d’Ampezzo a prestigious destination for visitors from all over the world.
With its rounded profile, this mountain combines gentle slopes and steep descents. Set between Brunico/Bruneck, San Vigilio and Valdaora/Olang, Kronplatz is one of the gems of South Tyrol. With its 119 km of pistes and 32 ultra-modern ski lifts, it is a favourite destination of winter sports enthusiasts. The panoramic views of the UNESCO World Heritage site of the Dolomites and the Alps are a truly unforgettable sight and a treat for the eyes.
Alta Badia combines the beauty of the Dolomites, a UNESCO World Heritage site, with Ladin culture and an excellent offering for tourists. The undisputed quality of its cuisine, for years a distinctive feature of the area, has also made the Valley an important venue for culinary events. The area, an ideal starting point for the Sellaronda, features such legendary pistes as the Gran Risa, which hosts World Cup races each year.
The joining of these two regions now offers an extraordinarily wide range of possibilities that combines the Dolomites, UNESCO World Heritage Site with the modernity of highly modern ski areas. From here you can either access the Sellaronda or have fun on the 500 km of slopes of the connected areas. The grandeur of the mountains and the pleasantly tranquil character of Europe’s largest high plateau are a magnet for skiers of all ages and families from far and wide, all of whom can expect a warm welcome from the locals.
Skiing surrounded by the majesty of the Marmolada, Sella, Sasso-lungo and Rosengarten massifs is an experience unique to the Val di Fassa valley and Carezza/Karersee. And that’s not all, of course! Waiting to be discovered are the new trails between kilometres of slopes, amazing routes such as the Sellaronda or the Skitour Panorama, playgrounds in the snow for little ones and fully-equipped snowparks for the more intrepid. Every day spent here is a special day.
Following a breathtaking ride in the cable car, a spectacular view of the 3342-metre-high Marmolada Glacier will open up in front of you; this mountain massif is also affectionately known as the “Queen of the Dolomites”. From here, slopes run to Arabba via the Pado- don Pass.

Arabba is the highest ski resort within the Dolomiti Superski region. In this little town, hotels are nestled at the foot of the slopes and from here, you can access the Porta Vescovo, Burz, Bec de Roces and Pordoi ski areas, which all form part of the Sellaronda ski circuit.
With its five linked mountains and 110 km of slopes, the 3 Zinnen Dolomites ski resort is a place for real aficionados. The ski resort not only boasts an all-round offer, including kids-only skiing areas, but is also ideal for sharing quiet moments with family and old friends, between giant snowmen, Rudi the reindeer and many other natural attractions.

quattro takes you up. Then you take over.

More traction, more fun. Discover quattro in the new Audi Q8.

Q8. Maximum values: fuel consumption (l/100 km): urban cycle 7,3 extra-urban cycle 6,5 - combined cycle 6,8; CO₂ emissions (g/km): combined cycle 179.

The fuel consumption and CO₂ emissions values for the various vehicle models are measured by the manufacturer on the basis of current legislation. Any additional option packages may change these values. Not only engine efficiency, but also driving style and other non-technical factors affect fuel consumption and CO₂ emissions (carbon dioxide is the greenhouse gas mainly responsible for global warming). For further information, please ask at an Audi Dealer for the free guide on fuel saving and CO₂ emissions, which contains this data for all new vehicle models. The values are periodically updated in compliance with Attachment 3 of DPR 84/2003.
